Napa's take on a biker bar

Doesn't everything taste better when you're in full spandex? That goes for high-carb energy bars but also high-end Bordeaux blends. And you can find both at Velo Vino, the new tasting room at Clif Family Winery & Farm. Headed by the husband-wife team behind the Clif Bar empire, Velo Vino pours half a dozen wines, including a perfect-for-summer Sauvignon Blanc. Also on hand are bottles of olive oil—partly sourced from the farm—and bikewear. Ready to ride? Grab a map of the eight routes that start right out the door. Tasting from $10; 709 Main St.; velovinsonapavalley.com —LOREN MOONEY
